APPEALS FOR MORE PRAYER

EVANGELIST SAYS SUCCESS OF REVIVAL DEPENDS ON THIS.

MRS. SCOVILLE SONG DRAMATIC EVENT

Scoville Scores the Lukewarm Christian—Hopes for Great Success in Campaign.

"Did you think to pray?"

Mrs. Arlene Dux Scoville sang the keynote of Dr. Charles Reign Scoville's sermon on prayer at the tent tabernacle last night. It came suddenly, yet so smoothly that the attention of the big audience never wavered, in the midst of the evangelist's appeal for more prayer among Christians.

Go Further With Jesus.

"My proposition is for Christians to go a little further with Jesus in prayer than they ever have before," said the evangelist in opening. He found the crowd attentive, due to the spirit aroused during the song service and prayers. For more than a half hour the audience sat so quietly that the least sound around the tent tabernacle could be heard distinctly.

The evangelist was pleased afterward and while he does not predict the outcome of campaigns, all members of his party believe Maryville will see a great meeting if the attitude of church folks last night can be taken as a criterion.

Dr. Scoville's attitude was that of extreme earnestness. He adopted a pleading attitude a large part of the time he was on the platform, but took time to hurl a few hot shots at what he terms forces of evil and cold Christians.

Only One Perfect Man.

"If you came here to criticize, I hope you stay long enough to pray," he snapped. "Only one perfect man ever lived and he was crucified. You won't find me perfect. If you don't like all my sermons don't take those you don't like. Do like I do with sauer kraut.

"I like my cabbage before it is spoiled. When I see sauer kraut on the table I let it alone. Some folks criticize everything, though, one-half billy goat and the other half donkey—buttin' at one end and kickin' at the other. You of course don't do that way in Nodaway county. Now just because you live Nodaway county don't you nod away while I am preaching.

"Say, I know a minister who quit a church that charged pew rent, had an expensive pipe organ, a big choir and a great organization, because that church did not save souls.

Hates Pew Rent.

"I hate pew rent. If I get into a church that charges pew rent, I will hold my nose, say 'pew!' and walk out. No Christianity in some of these highfalutin' churches. Yes, I can hear even some of you knocking.

"Well, pinch a pig and he'll squeal, hit a dog and he'll howl. If every Christian in Maryville would kneel in a circle and pray until that circle was clean before God, Maryville's revival would jar all Missouri.

"Some men walk around here saying, 'I'm the biggest tree in town. Peel the bark off some of those old trees and it would take a flock of woodpeckers to peck out the worms. Lots of folks are willing to work for God if some one else will do the work. A banker can win souls a preacher can't. A lawyer, a doctor, a mechanic, a farmer can win souls that others cannot reach.

Christians Must Pray.

"A Christian, though, to have power must pray. A person who doesn't go to Sunday school and pray has no business with Christ. The Sunday school is one of the big places to win souls of boys and girls.

"Some men send their wives and

A large class is to be initiated and it is the duty of all the old members, as well as the new ones, to be present.

Scoville Sayings

Only one perfect man ever lived and he was crucified.

I hope the knockers here tonight remain long enough to pray.

You who don't pray and go to Sunday school have no business with Christ.

If Maryville's Christians would clean up, this revival would shake the whole state of Missouri.

Some rotten old human trees need a woodpecker to pick the worms out of 'em worse than they need an evangelist.

Too many folks are half billy goat and the other half mule, buttin' at one end and kickin' at the other.

The infidels who said we couldn't pray higher than we could spit are bastards of the devil and we are sons of God.

The devil doesn't want revivals; hit a dog and he'll howl; pinch a pig and he'll squeal.

You might as well try to raise roses at the north pole as to try to save souls without prayer.

The average Christian prays less than two minutes a day. Nearly all eat longer than that.

If I ever go into a church that charges pew rent "I'll hold my nose, say "pew!" and walk out.

Some folks pray like a parrot. They say a prayer instead of praying it.

SOLDIER BOY BACK

I. B. WILLIAMS GIVES RESUME OF THREE MONTHS CAMP LIFE.

WAS GREAT EXPERIENCE

Considers Love of Home and Tendency to Obey Greatest Lessons Learned —An Account of His Trip.

(I. B. Williams)

"Arkoe! Arkoe! Don't forget your parcels!"

The piping voice of the brakeman roused the slumbering ones from a dreamy sleep. Dim recollections reminded a former soldier that it was only the whistling station for Maryville. It sounded half way like home to him.

When five of us boarded the I. & G. N., northward bound, at 12:45 p. m. Thursday, we felt like free men again. I surmise that we had about the same feeling that the imprisoned eagle had when freed, and spread his wings and mounted higher and higher into the clear, invigorating atmosphere, and voiced his gratitde with one wild scream and was gone. You know the story as the preachers tell it. Well, that is the way we felt, only we tried to retain our dignity.

Leave Taking Touching.

The leave taking of the boys in camp was really more touching than when we left here, I believe. Although they expressed gladness at our being able to return home, we could feel the undercurrent that was in their thought. I have no doubt but that every one of them wanted to come with us, but like true soldiers, they put on a smiling face and told us to carry good tidings to the folks at home. And I have nothing but the best word to bring with me from them, for they are really suffering nothing serious, unless it is for more frequent letters from home and loved ones. Many of you no doubt think that the boys have quite a bit of time to spare, but that is where you are mistaken. The day's work of a soldier is not one of idleness.

Imagine how you would like to be roused out every morning about 4:45 with some one pulling your foot and shouting in a gruff voice that it is time for reveille. Failure to respond for roll call twenty minutes later may mean a half day chopping wood or something equally bad; maybe digging holes and filling them up again.

Every Day Full.

Mess, police duty and caring for the indisposed take up the time from roll call until 7:00 o'clock, when the companies "fall in" for drill and the band meets for rehearsal. That continues up until 11:00 or 11:30. Mess at 12 o'clock, followed by a period of needful rest until 3:30 o'clock when drill happens again. Other work is found for the bandmen. Guard mount at 5 o'clock; mess at 6 o'clock, with retreat at 7 o'clock, followed by a concert. After 8 o'clock until 11 the time is our own.

That was the order of the regular daily routine. It was broken without a minute's warning for some other purpose, maybe for engineering work

MARRIED 50 YEARS

MR. AND MRS. S. R. BEECH CELEBRATE GOLDEN WEDDING.

TRIP TO THEIR OLD HOME

Came to Maryville in 1868 and Had Varied Career in Politics—Visiting Son Here.

Mr. and Mrs. S. R. Beech of San Diego, Cal., who came to Missouri in August to visit their sons, Scribner L. Beech and family of Maryville, and Ernest Beech and family of Clarinda, Iowa, quietly celebrated their golden wedding anniversary here Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Beech accompanied by Judge and Mrs. W. C. Ellison and son, George Robb Ellison, drove to the old Beech home, three miles north of Skidmore on that day. This house is still standing and was made of native lumber, Judge Beech helping to build it. This was in 1868, when the Beeches first came here. The party went on to Clarinda, where they spent the rest of the day.

Judge Beech was married September 10, 1865, to Matilda Burdick. They came to Nodaway county soon after and located eleven miles west of Maryville and near Skidmore, where he led a very busy life for some time farming, teaching school and mining coal.

Mr. and Mrs. Beech had four children. One son, Ernest Beech, lives in Phoenix, Ariz., and a daughter, Mrs. Curtis Alexander, makes her home at San Diego, Cal.

In 1872 he was elected sheriff and was re-elected in 1874, he being the first individual to be elected two terms successively as sheriff of Nodaway county. He began studying law and was admitted to the bar in 1877. He was in partnership with Judge W. C. Ellison for a number of years.

Mr. Beech was appointed circuit judge, filling the unexpired term of Judge Kelly ending in 1886. In 1892 he was his party's candidate for this office, but was defeated by twenty-two votes. In 1880 he was elected mayor of Maryville, and in 1906 was appointed postmaster in Maryville and served eight years, or until 1914, when he and Mrs. Beech moved to San Diego, Cal., to make their home.

Before Judge Beech came to Nodaway county in 1868, he had held the office of postmaster at Cambridge, Pa., for two years, when he resigned to come west. In 1864, when 17 years of age, he showed his patriotism by enlisting in Company E, Eighty-third regiment, Pennsylvania Volunteer infantry, in which he served for one year, taking part in some of the hottest contests of the war. He was wounded at the battle of the Wilderness, a bullet having pased through his left arm and his body. After receiving an honorable discharge he returned to Crawford county, Pa., and attended the academy there, later taking a course at Eastman's Business college at Poughkeepsie, N. Y.

Mr. Beech was born in Crawford county, Pa., December 25, 1846.

PLAN "OLD FOLKS" MEETING

Scoville Wants to Hold Session for Exchange of Old-Time Stories and Experiences.

"Old folks" of Nodaway county will have a meeting of their own in connection with the Charles Reign Scoville evangelistic campaign at the tent tabernacle, possibly Tuesday. The date has not been determined but will be in a few days.

"I want all over 50 to attend that meeting," said the evangelist last night. We want the old folks to tell of the good old days when they went to church. We will find the oldest man and the oldest woman in the tent.

"It must have been great to have taken one's best girl to church on horseback in those palmy days when the old folks were young. What a lot of fun it would be to go horseback riding and have to hug the girl to hold her on or let her put her arms around you to keep from falling off! These old folks know all about that."

BEST SEASON YET

MARYVILLE CONSERVATORY OF MUSIC INCREASES ATTENDANCE

GOOD TEACHING CORPS

Effort Made by Teachers to Aid in Social as Well as Musical Activity—Many Recitals Planned.

The Maryville Conservatory of Music, which opened September 4, is entering upon its most successful season.

The enrollment in all departments show a great increase over last year, and not only are the town people availing themselves of the splendid opportunities offered in the conservatory courses but also those residing outside of Maryville, some coming from other counties and other states.

The conservatory is under the direction of Miss Bernice Rice, who, with her corps of capable assistants, will do great things for musical Maryville. Miss Alice Porter, Miss Eleanor Smith, Miss Marjorie Wilfley and Miss Lucile Airy, who are in charge of the primary and intermediate departments, have fully demonstrated their ability in their line of work.

The voice department under the direction of Miss Jennie Garrett is increasing in size and efficiency. Miss Garrett is training a number of quartettes and a women's chorus, both of which will be available for the coming recitals and social events at the conservatory.

Fred Lewis Hakel, in charge of the violin department, wil appear in a violine recital soon—the first of the faculty concerts to be given during the year. He will also organize a conservatory orchestra which will aid greatly in training the students for public work in later life.

Miss Eleanor Smith plans to give a public demonstration of the work done in the juvenile piano department in October. The progress made by the little folk in this department and the grade of work done deserve special mention.

The advanced students, taught by Miss Rice, are rapidly approaching the goal of their ambitions—graduation. Music lovers of Maryville will be delighted to hear that some interesting graduating recitals will be given by these students in spring.

The teachers at the conservatory are not only interested in the musical education of their pupils, but they also do everything in a social way to make the life of the students more pleasant. A number of get-together meetings have been held this week for the purpose of having the out-of-town students meet one another.

The Musical Art club will be a special feature of this year's social life. This club will hold its meetings once every two weeks at the conservatory, and some interesting social evenings are promised the members.

Th conservatory has purchased a new grand piano which will be placed in Recital hall.

Among the out-of-town students already registered at the conservatory are: Miss Amy Ebersole, New Hampton; Elsie Armstrong, Sheridan; Lenola Mitchell, Skidmore; Mollie Wilcox, Trenton; Roberta Lamar, Elmo; Helen Johnson and Garnett Praisewater, Burlington Junction; Margaret Kelley, Pickering; Ruth Hook, Bedford, Iowa; Eva Bohanan, Jameson, and Mr. Vladimir Jisa, violinist, of Weston, Neb.

Receive Insurance.

Mrs. Daniel Miller, secretary of the Woodmen Circle, today received a check for $1,000, the amount due to Homer Shipps, Miss Marie Shipps and Mrs. George Palfreyman on the insurance policy of their mother, Mrs. Ella Shipps.

SCHOOLS HAVE 858

ENROLLMENT OF THE PUBLIC SCHOOLS YESTERDAY.

MANY MORE WILL COME

Within Next Thirty Days 75 to 100 More Students Will Enroll—Schools Start Off Well.

The enrollment in the public schools of this city at the close of the first day of the 1916-17 session is very promising. The only figures by which a comparison of this year's attendance with last year may be obtained are those showing the attendance at the close of the first month of school last year. Allowance should be made for those who will enroll during the next thirty days.

The enrollment for the high school is 228; Washington school 378; Jefferson 102; Franklin 44; Garfield 79; and Douglas 27. The enrollment of the schools September 30, 1915, was: high school 247; Washington school 319; Jefferson 126; Franklin 84; Garfield 102; and Douglas 25.

The enrollment for this year is 856 as compared to 903 last year. The increase during the next thirty days should approximate 75 to 100.

The non-resident attendance is holding up well, there being 34 in the high school and several more in the grade schools.

All the floors at the Washington school have been thoroughly oiled, greatly improving the appearance and cleanliness of the building.

The high school classes all met on regular schedule time on Tuesday, the second day of the session. All books and supplies were on hand in both high school and grades so that work was really started on the second day.

The board of education has ordered new equipment for the crowded Manual Arts department and will soon add more equipment to the Science laboratory.

Free text books have been put into the Seventh and Eighth grades this year so that now the entire eight grades are supplied with free texts by the district.

Coach Schultz has called a meeting of all candidates for football to be held this afternoon. Requests for games with Maryville are already coming in.

Mr. Berger, the new playground supervisor, is busy during every intermission, helping the boys to have a good time on the play ground.

Returns From Auto Trip to Canada.

J. Ray Cook returned at noon today from a seven weeks automobile trip to Aneroid, Canada. Virgil Lyle made the trip to Canada with him but returned ten days ago. Mr. Cook has traveled over 4300 miles and in seven states. He returned by way of Montana, Idaho and Wyoming and reports the weather very cold in these states.

Mr. Cook's father, J. F. Cook, went to Omaha last night and accompanied him home this morning.

Miss Ruth Reuillard will leave Sunday for Des Moines, Ia., where she will attend Drake University the coming year.

children to Sunday school but think they are too good to go. Others roll in the mire on Saturday night and on Sunday sing, 'I'm Jesus' Little Lamb.' Liars! Little lambs don't roll in the mire.

"You might as well try to hatch chickens from door knobs or raise roses at the north pole as to try to save souls without prayer."

Here the evangelist appeared deeply moved by what he as saying. In a voice tense and on the verge of shaking, he said:

"The average Christian prays less than two minutes a day. Think of it."

Mrs. Scoville Sings Solo.

At this juncture Mrs. Scoville arose and sang "Did You Think to Pray?"

The effect was to put the audience in an even more thoughtful mood when the evangelist continued.

"Every Christian here should go to his knees and pray first for himself that his life might be clean and then pray for the unconverted.

"Pray to God. The same God who made the universe, the stars, the earth, can save a soul. You can help. Whenever church members quit reaching out for the lost, Mrs. Scoville and I will don Salvation Army uniforms. Fray the Lord's prayer, don't say it like a parrot.

"Listen, the same God who controls wireless telegraphy out on a storm-swept sea when a ship is in distress, answers prayer. The same God that answered a dying mother's prayer for the conversion of her children will save your friends and children. Pray, you Christians, pray!"

Mr. Parker Offers Prayer.

As the evangelis closed Lon D. Parker, extension secretary of the party, prayed. With bowed heads the audience stood and sang softly, "Where He Leads Me I Will Follow." Musical Director Forsythe offered benediction.

It was Methodist Night and several hundred Methodists were present. The Baptists and Presbyterians will try to outnumber the Methodists with their delegation tonight. Christians tomorrow night, Men's Bible classes and Burlington Junction Friday night, and young people's night, Saturday night.

"Say," he said, "these Maryville pans are the finest in the world except that kind that sings a bell for one dollar, two bells for a half, four bells for a quarter, starts an alarm clock for a dime, repeats the alarm for a nickel, fires a pistol for a penny and snaps a picture for nothing."

CHRISTIAN CHURCH MEETING

Dr. Scoville Addressed the Convention —To Hold Efficiency Rallies Over County.

Dr. Scoville addressed the county convention of the Christian church held in this city yesterday afternoon. The meeting was adjourned late, after a number of matters had been discussed.

It was decided that the county officers hold efficiency rallies in each Christian church in the county during the months of October and November. The Christian church of Maryville will stand half of the expense for sending a student to the Missouri Christian college at Camden Point, Mo., up to $125, and the other churches will stand the other half of the expense. Miss Golda Maines of Burlington Junction was selected as the student from the county.

Mrs. Fred Miller was elected county president of the C. W. B. M., and Miss Bessie Porter secretary and treasurer.

The resolutions adopted by the convention follow:

That we express our appreciation of the splendid entertainment and hospitality of the Maryville church during the convention.

That we express our thanks to Bro. Scoville and his helpers for the inspiration they gave to our convention.

That we recommend a greater zeal and more consecrated effort for the promotion of the young people's work through the Christian Endeavor and Bible school.

That we recommend the county board hold church efficiency rallies in each church of the county during the next convention year.

That each church hold a revival, and there be a closer co-operation among our churches, especially between the strong and weak congregation, by the strong church loaning preacher for meeting and occasional services.

We recommend that Nodaway county churches support with enthusiasm the county scholarship movement in Misosuri Christian college, providing for at least one splendid girl.

We recommend an auxiliary of the C. W. B. M. in each church of the county.

The resolutions were signed by T. S. Young, C. R. Harman and E. H. Hutchison.

There is a feeling of permanency and security to the person who writes his check for the payment of bills.

The inhabitants of Guilford are planning on having an unusually sweet time of it this fall, because of the superabundance of bee swarms in the vicinity. Plenty of sweet, honey-laden clover has made life worth living for bees and bees and bees, and as a result they have stored their products not only in their hives but in the hollows of trees and in the weatherboarding of the houses. Every day the good citizens of Guilford may be seen wending their way with buckets to hunt the treasures of the bee. Truly, it is a sweet time in Guilford.

Two former proprietors of the dray business in Guilford have decided to return to their former occupation. Jack Tuttle bought the dray of O. H. Brown and Brown purchased the dray line of A. C. Lee.

NEWS FROM ALL Northwest Missouri

There exists a difference of opinion with reference to the profit in apple raising, but A. E. Holloway of Liberty has removed all doubt in his own case by paying the rent on a 70-acre farm with this season's crop from 23 trees. His rent was $240, and the apples from 25 trees brought $280.

The enrollment of the Gallatin schools with the opening of the new year is 450, a substantial increase over last year.

A Liberty lad is minus four toes on his right foot as a result of jumping from a manger in his father's barn. A nail penetrated his foot, blood poisoning set in and his life was saved only by the amputation of his toes.

A Ray county man of good family last week pleaded guilty of an unspeakable crime and accepted a sentence of life imprisonment without trial—all because he had allowed himself to fall under the influence of a quart of whiskey. His own life and that of an innocent girl were wrecked just because men have found that there's money in taking advantage of the weak man's appetite for booze.

The Savannah High School prints a display advertisement in the local papers showing an excellent half tone picture of the high school building, setting forth the courses offered and naming the cost of tuition to outside students. A significant clause in the advertisement is this: "Located in a town in which a tax proposition for educational purposes has never been defeated."

A four-foot vein of coal at a depth of 350 feet has been discovered at Spickard.

Last Monday, Spickard was almost literally in a pickle. The local pickle factory had just completed filling a 1000-bushel tank with pickles when the bottom of the big tub dropped out. Gathering up the pickles was a big job, says the Grundy County Gazette.

Alfalfa, just two years from the sowing, produced $75 worth of hay to the acre for J. F. Hunter, a Worth county farmer, says the Grant City Star. This was the product of three cuttings, all of which was hauled direct to customers in Grant City.

A group of Hopkins young people have formed a new club. They tell their parents that the name of the organization is the "Can't Marry Club," but when enjoying one of their picnics they change the name to "Camp Merry Club."

A Putnam county man was watching the flight of a flock of pelicans the other day when, to his utter astonishment, one of the big birds came to the ground, alighting near him. He was still more astonished when he easily captured it. There was no evidence of injury, and it is supposed that the bird was simply tired out by its long flight from the north. The bird measured ten feet from tip to tip of its wings, and weighed fourteen pounds. The beak was fourteen inches in length.—Unionville Republican.

Petty thieving is rampant in Grant City, auto owners being the chief losers, says the Times. Last Sunday night thieves helped themselves to parts of two motor cars, taking castings, inner tubes, casing covers, valve covers, side curtains, radiator cap and tools.

Another aged Grant City man, B. E. Drummins, shows surprising vigor. Though 89 years old he recently returned from a trip to Colorado, where he went to the top of Pike's Peak and enjoyed all the side trips as much as the younger tourists.

Thirty-six sacks of mail order catalogs were recently delivered at the Albany postoffice. These catalogs and the postage required for their delivery cost the mail order houses a lot of money; "and yet," says the Albany Capital, "there are a few men who still argue that it doesn't pay to advertise."

Though their motor car turned completely over in reaching the bottom of a 20-foot embankment near Barnard, a party of Tarkio persons, Fred Gowdy and wife and Basil Yates and wife, were able to continue their cross-country trip within a few hours after the accident.

A Ray county teacher recently applied for the school which he attended as a boy many years ago. When he was a pupil there, says the DeKalb County Herald, the enrollment was 105. Now there are only eight children of school age in the district, and only three who are under school age. The prospects for the future are not encouragaing.

in leveling up the camp ground or that comes to my mind just now is Sherman's definition of war. There were a few minor bruises and hurts.

Boys Faring Well.

The boys are all doing nicely since the mess halls have been completed and have their company streets graded. The whole camp has been thoroughly drained and made more sanitary than the town, and would make many Missouri towns blush for shame. According to reports and my best recollection the percentage of efficiency in sanitary conditions of the present camp over any previous active service is 800. I remember of only one death from sickness. The way to maintain the best health there is to eat just enough to satisfy and drink plenty of water. As I have said i n previous letters all our drinking water was boiled to kill the disease germs. Any soldier caught drinking water that was not boiled was subject to the guardhouse or the woodpile.

Our comrade, Ezra Phipps, is slated for a discharge. He had applied for a furlough but the last examination the day before we left was less satisfactory than any previous one and the examining doctor recommended a discharge. He will probably arrive here some time next week.

The fate of the Fourth regiment was not known at the time I left but from the best information obtainable it was thought that it would be kept there for at least another month. Monday of last week the Second Missouri regiment was sent up the river to relieve the Maine troops on guard, which left us in complete charge of the camp. More troops are expected to come in for training soon.

WAS HERE 15 YEARS AGO

Evangelist Scoville Gave Illustrated Lecture in Maryville at That Time.

Short Revival Stories.

Dr. Charles Reign Scoville was in Maryville fifteen years ago.

In 1901 while he was en route from the north to Texas on a lecture tour he stopped here and gave an illustrated lecture on his trip around the world.

"I don't remember much about it," said the evangelist today, "except that I arrived after dark on one railroad, hurriedly set up my machine at the Christian church, gave my lecture and packed up my machine while it was still hot and departed on the other railroad that same night.

"De Loss Smith sang for me that night and a good sized crowd was present. It was too dark to see much and I was too busy to see anything of Maryville.

"However, I am convinced since coming here this time that I missed considerable by not staying long enough to see Maryville when I was here before."

LUNCHEON FOR H. S. BOYS

Women of First Christian Church and Young Men in Getting Acquainted With the Scoville Party.

High school boys of Maryville are invited by the women of the First Christian church to be guests at a luncheon at the church Friday noon. Members of the Scoville party will be present to get acquainted and possibly a short talk or two will be delivered.

Work among the high school boys will be a feature of the campaign just as work among the high school girls under the direction of Mrs. Scoville will be a feature. Mrs. Scoville will meet with the girls Friday afternoon after school.

ON CHARGES OF WHITE SLAVERY

Federal Authorities to Prosecute Mackey and Nora Crane, Both Claiming Clarinda as Their Home.

Charles Mackey, who claims his home is in Clarinda, was arrested last week by Chief of Police Shonley on a charge of adultery and was fined by Mayor Robey $50. Nora Crane was also arrested on a similar charge and was fined by Mayor Robey. She claimed her home is also at Clarinda.

The federal authorities are now going to prosecute these parties on charges of white slavery. An officer from Kansas City will be here tomorrow night to get them. Mackey, who had been released by the city was arrested yesterday by Sheriff Wallace and Chief of Police Shonley and the woman in the case was caught today.

MISSOURI LADY ESCAPES KNIFE

DR DRAKE'S METHODS SAVE HER FROM OPERATION.

Renowned Specialist, Now Located in St. Joseph, Is Giving Free Treatments.

Every day letters are received from former Missouri patients of Dr. Drake telling of the good his methods have done them, and wishing him success in his new western field, as he is now located in St. Joseph. Some patients wish these letters published in order to benefit some other sufferer, guiding them to a place where the truth is told and skillful work done in every case. Mrs. Effie Wilson, Nodaway, Mo., is one of these. Having herself escaped the horrors of the operating table she feels so grateful and joyous that she wishes all sufferers to know of her cure.

"Nodaway, Mo.

"To All Sufferers:

"Last winter I was told to go to a hospital and undergo an operation. Prominent physicians had told me that was the only chance or hope for me, so I arranged my affairs, bade goodbye to my children, and got everything ready to be operated on, for one never knows when they go under knife and chloroform whether their mangled body will be brought home alive or dead. I think Providence must have intervened in my behalf, for before I reached the hospital I fell among friends who had been cured by Dr. Drake and they prevailed upon me to have an examination made by him anyway. I did so, and after a very careful examination the doctor said that by his methods of treatment there would be no occasion for an operation, so I commenced treatment with him at once, and soon was a well woman, thanks to his skill and attention. I now thank Dr. Drake with all the gratitude of my heart for saving me from a terrible operation and possibly worse. I also thank the dear friends who guided me into such skillful hands. I hope Dr. Drake may go on with his wonderful work for the sick and afflicted for many years, for certainly there is need in the world for the skill and sympathetic attention he gives to his patients. The results he brings about so quickly and the methods he uses are little short of wonderful.

"MRS. EFFIE WILSON."

Dr. Drake and assistants treat chronic diseases of the stomach, kidneys, liver, blood, nerves, skin, rectal diseases, indigestion, catarrh, rheumatism, nervousness, kidney and bladder complaints, scrofula and blood taints, eczema, bloating, headaches, pain in back and side, dizziness, epileptic fits, asthma, bronchitis, leg ulcers, piles, fistula, diseases of women and diseases of men.

Consultation and examination free at their offices located at 716½ Felix street, St. Joseph, Mo.

Maryville Saturday, September 16, Linville Hotel.

(From the Mother Chautauqua.)

This, the forty-third year, has been the banner season at Chautauqua, New, York, the mother of all the chautauquas.

It is estimated that 50,000 people have entered the gates this year, and the sale of tickets has exceeded by $3,000 that of any previous year.

The gifts of Old First Night amounted to $11,800, though the request was for only $11,000.

The new Pier building was completed this year, also the Miller well tower and the beautiful traction station is nearing completion.

Plans for the future include extensive additions to the beautiful group of summer school buildings.

No one can complete the good accomplished here and in the other numerous chautauquas scattered over the length and breadth of this fair land.

MRS. M. B. MORRISON.
